

Australian Motorcycle Council Report January 2010

On the AMC Front we recent ha Wayne Gardner appointed to the National Road Safety Council as a permanent motorcycle representative. To have someone as respected as Wayne Gardner representing our safety at the national level has got to be great news for all motorcyclist as he is the type of person people will stop and listen to. A Couple of the AMC Executive Committee have arranged a meeting with him next week and we will keep you informed of the outcomes of their meeting.

Another issue the AMC are working on at the moment is a series of nationally recognized motorcycle specific road sign's and this is progressing but will take a while as the Federal Government only review road sigh's every 5 years and that was done two years ago, but we will make the submission and wait.
